5. Consider and Act on Burn Ban – Cody Stegomoller addressed the court that after studying the statute regarding burn bans in his opinion the county conditions are not in-line to be under a burn ban. The County does not have rain in the near forecast and temperatures are going to be near 100 degrees in the next two weeks; however, the county continues to have high humidity. Due to the lack of fuel the conditions in the event of a fire are slow burning if they do happen now. Mr. Stegomoller also reported the our surrounding counties: Comanche, Brown, and Hamilton have higher risk for fires and do not have active burn bans in place. There are no counties close to Mills that have a burn ban in place at this time. By statute burn bans were designed to be temporary. Counties are trying to make them permanent and the lifting of the ban temporary. Burn Bans limit business and farming. Asking the Court to consider other things and give some facts as to why a burn ban is needed. Please re-read the statutes.

Judge Johnson apologized that the burn ban was confusing on the last court action. After Research, it was determined that the Court did not vote on the burn ban at the last meeting. Due to that fact, the burn ban is NOT in place. Commissioner Wright noted that he believes the burn ban should be in place. Commissioner Williams stated that the county is green and constituents in his precinct want to burn. Commissioner Partin went to look at the burn on 315. He did not think that there is enough fuel source to be concerned about a fire. Commissioner Partin noted that the Court needs to consider new guidelines for setting a burn ban by consulting the forestry service and all of our local fire chiefs. Commissioner Garren noted that the fire chiefs that he has visited with are in favor of leaving the ban off until deer season starts. October 24 is a regularly scheduled meeting and before deer season starts. Commissioner Garren recommends leaving the burn ban off and reassessing at the October 24, 2022 meeting. Judge Johnson agrees that inclusion of the fire chiefs is a good idea for future burn bans. Sheriff Hammonds noted the Forrest Service is a valuable resource for fire/burn recommendations.

Commissioner Williams made a motion to leave the burn ban off. Second by Commissioner Partin. Motion carried 3-2 with Judge Johnson and Commissioner Wright voting against.

6. Adjournment: Motion by Commissioner Williams and seconded by Judge Johnson. Carried by 5-0.
